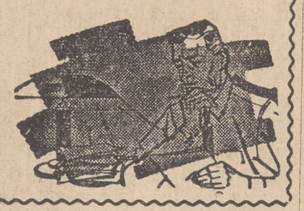
The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin



TV Ban is Censorship

First telecasts of this year's football games without strident sales pitches from cigarette manufacturers did not seem to upset teevee sports fans.

Demand by advertisers that fans stop watching long enough to light up a slim; a menthol-cooled; a super-long, or a magic-filtered cigarette was hardly missed. It didn't seem to make much difference to the players or field officials either.

The ban on cigarette advertising on radio and television is probably not the best solution to a national health problem. It is certainly not an solution to the freedom of information problem it created, either.

Cigarete advertisers became victims of the sales ogre it created. It started with cigarette tycoon George Washington Hill who early saw the effectiveness of beating the brains out of those who listened to radio. He gave the listener a pretty good wad of what he wanted to hear as entertainment. And his bang-bang commercial philosophy proved so effective that it was carried over into television.

As a viewer thinks back, he'll recall those cigarette-glorifying commercials as being coated with niceties but with an iron-fist of sales drive buried barely under the velvet skin. Cigarette sales skyrocketed.

The government eventually claimed that the unwary public needed to be protected from smoking hazards and the spectre of censorship was introduced.

It is true that the air belongs to the people and it is the people's air that the electronic media utilized for commercials by which its payroll was met. But what prevents the Federal Communications Commission from ordaining that aspirin is injurious to health? There go the pill commercials. Or that soap removes oil from sensitive skin? Goodbye Ivory and Dial commercials. There is already reason to squawk about the detergent situation. Will FCC ban advertising of compounds which tilts ecological balance? And gasoline and oil! Good grief!!

Will FCC ban certain news as disturbing to the mental health of the taxpayer?

A much better way would be for fact-revealing balance. If substances, compounds or devices are injurious, time equal to that used for sales promotion should be supplied by the advertiser with information that hazards exist, and what these hazards are. The public may be unorganized but it is not stupid. If equal facts are presented, John Q. can come to a proper decision.

An "equal time" arrangement would not only blunt the growing determination of bureaucrats to reduce the free flow of information, but it would, by the greater need for attracting attention to the good qualities of advertised products, require the teevee industry to provide better programs.

And the latter alone is enough reason for most people to consider these arguments as valid.

Local Resident Has Article In Journal

J. Donald Forbes, chief internal auditor for Ryan Aeronautical Company, San Diego, is the author of an article published in the current issue of the Internal Auditor, technical journal of The Institute of Internal Auditors.

His article "Management by Control" states that management by control is not the result of applying abstract theories and principles. Rather, he says, it is a living, dynamic condition, resulting from a variety of decisions.

Forbes, of 3624 Saddle dr., Spring Valley, previously served as auditor in charge of the U. S. Navy Area Audit Office in San Diego. He was also in public accounting both as an employee and as an individual practitioner.

He is a member of The Institute of Internal Auditors, the National Association of Ac-countants and the California Society of CPA's. He has received the "Most Valuable Member" awards from the local chapters of The Institute of Internal Auditors and the National Association of Accountants.

The Institute, with offices in New York and Winter Park, Florida is a non-profit international business educational corporation with 93 chapters and 7500 members in the United States, Canada and overseas, representing the internal auditing profession in government, business and industry.

Spring Valley Community Park Gets Green Light From Supervisors

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Creation of a four-acre community park on the site of the abandoned Spring Valley Sanitation District sewerage disposal plant was agreed to in principle on Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors.

The board acted upon the recommendation of Third District Supervisors Harry Scheidle and in their capacity as directors of the sanitation district and the Spring Valley Park and Recreation District.

Under Scheidle's plan, the park district would lease four acres of the 15 at the eastern end of the plant site at a cost of $4,000 a year.

The pot would then be landscaped by that district while the sanitation district would undertake to improve the appearance of the old plant site for compatibility.

The supervisor said he has been working with the advisors of the park district and the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce on the plan.

He said the sanitation district has a responsibility, as does any responsible neighbor, to maintain to the fullest degree possible its facilities at a level of attractiveness which will not detract from the overall desirability of the neighborhood.

The plant site, Scheidle said, is valued at abut $265,000, but has not been placed on the market because it contains the Spring Valley animal shelter. It might eventually be used as a site for a water reclamation plant and thus might never be sold.

Scheidle said the four acres will serve the park district as a stable nucleus upon which the more expensive capital improvements can be constructed with some security.

The lease, a $1,000 an acre per year, would be for 25 years and the district would be given an option to purchase at some future time. Scheidle said the rent is based upon seven percent of the market value of the land.

He said it would raise the park district's tax rate about three cents, from 14.1 cents to 17 cents. This would be about all the district could afford, the supervisor estimated, as it would be attempting to develop the park at the same time.

"Because the land is now essentially in a state of transition," Scheidle said, speaking of the total acreage, "is no excuse for allowing it to become an eyesore.

"The land could be landscaped relatively cheaply to complement the four more intensely developed acres to the east, with a green belt and parking lot."

Estimated land need for a water reclamation plant, Scheidle said, is about five acres, which would not disturb the four acre park.

He said, "Ten years have passed now since the sewer plant has been closed . . . and the residents are still asking why at least some of the land cannot be used as a park."

Probation Meted S.V. Man Charged With Cycle Theft

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A Spring Valley man, caught riding a stolen motorcycle with a woman passenger, was put on two years' probation in Superior Court Thursday.

Kathleen Cannon, 29, of Chula Vista, and Alfred C. Jones, Jr., 21, of 1614 Tarlton st., Spring Valley, were arrested on Aug. 27 when Chula Vista police chased Jones for speeding.

The man has been in the county jail since his arrest, but on Oct. 14 proceedings were halted against the Cannon woman on the grounds of possible insanity.. She was sent to Patton State Hospital for a 90-day diagnostic study.

Judge Leland C. Nielsen found him guilty of unlawfully taking the vehicle on Dec. 11 and dismissed the second account, of receiving stolen property, "in furtherance of justice."

The judge ordered him to make restitution of $290, at $20 per month, and to get a full-time job or attend school full-time.

Rain, Cold Come To Land of Sun

Cold replaced rain in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area as the year turned, according to meteorologist Edgar Hayman, of the local Fire Department.

Rain fell on Jan. 2 in the amount of .26 inches. The next day there was a trace.

That storm brought the season's total to 6.05 inches. Last season, at the same time, the total was 1.95 inches.

Hayman said he had complied a seven year study of local rain for December. The average is 2.53 inches. In December just past, the total was 3.03 inches.

The high-low temperature this week: Jan. 2, 67-50; Jan. 3, 57-35; Jan. 4, 55-30, and Jan. 5, 56-29.

Rain seasons are from July 1. Rain days end at 4 p.m.

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The County Board of Supervisors approved an application by G&L Development Co. for a 60-unit planned residential development in Lemon Grove on Tuesday.

Helix Girls To Get New Grade System In Physical Education

The Grossmont Union High School District Bard of Trustees met Monday night and approved an experimental grading system for girls' physical education classes at Helix High School, which will go into effect when the spring semester gets underway.

The new system, which will be effective for all the girls' p.e. classes at the school, provides for three grades — A, pass, or fail.

No "Gray" Areas

According to Marrianne Loftus, chairman of the girls' physical education department at the school, the three-grade system will eliminate the "gray" areas, yet still allow for recognition of outstanding performance.

The motion was carried by a 4-1 vote, with board chairman George K. Birch casting the sole vote against the measure. He said he could not understand the need for including the A grade and eliminating the B and D grades.

State Recommendation

The experimental system is in accordance with a recommendation from the State Board of Education that the new system be adopted in senior and junior high school p.e. classes.

Although it is required that all students complete the physical education courses, the letter grades earned are not figured in with the academic classes in determining grade point averages and do not count in determining a student's standing with the California Scholarship Federation, according to Mrs. Loftus.

To Report Back

Mrs. Loftus was asked by the board to report back on the success of the experiment at the end of the school year. She was also requested, by trustee Ken Overstreet, to consider dropping the A grade from the system when she reports back to the board.

In other action, the board allocated $1,885 to pay for an in-service training session sponsored by San Diego State College for about 50 district instructors.

History and Culture

The training program will serve as an introduction to the history and culture of three minority groups, Afro-American, Mexican American, and American Indian.

The program is designed to give background information and suggested materials for use in the classroom.

Also at Monday night's meeting, the board met in executive session until 1 a.m.

Progress To Be Key For Coming Year Here

The name of the game for Lemon Grove and Spring Valley in the new year had got to be progress, at least in the opinions of leaders of the communities.

Bob Russell, who is president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce and the spearhead in the fight to get a beautification program in the area, says that the coming year is "time to move."

Broadway Improvements

He said that the main thing he is looking for in the coming year is the proposed improvements on Broadway, which he expects to help make a safer, more beautiful and cleaner shopping area.

"Lemon Grove is coming along real well," he said. The only bad thing is the trash and pot holes, he added.

. . . "time to move"

Russell said that he expects a new freeway exit on Costa Bella to double the traffic on Broadway next year. He also said that he expects great things from the newly-formed Lemon Grove Planning Association in helping the local community grow with the rest of the county.

Bryon Netzley, superintendent of the Lemon Grove School District, is also expecting progress to play an important role in Lemon Grove this year.

Unification

Some of the things that he mentioned for the future include unification of school districts in the Grossmont area, rezoning and residential growth, and good planning for the local community.

Netzley said that he expects a study and an election on the unification issue within the next year and a half. He add-

Barber Shop 'Bombers' Must Make Restitution

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Two brothers, originally charged with extortion and with bombing barber shops to force non-union establishments to join the union, Thursday in Superior Court were put on three years' probation, with one of them ordered to spend 90 days in custody.

The defendants were Joseph Roccoforte, 29, of 10707 Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley, and Don Phillip Roccoforte, 25, of El Cajon.

The brothers were arrested on a grand jury indictment handed down on Aug. 26 and they pleaded not guilty on Aug. 28 that the older had conspired to commit extortion and malicious mischief. The charges against the younger added placing explosives with the intent to injure to those against his brother.

The Roccofortes spent two days in jail and then made bail.

On Dec. 10, the two pleaded "no contest" to the conspiracy to commit malicious mischief charge, and other charges against them were dismissed.

The easement runs along the northern border of the Sweetwater Springs Junior High School site, in Spring Valley.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

Driving through Mexico recently I saw the letters "LEA" painted on the sides of mountains. Also there were signs on adobe walls which read "PRI" and "PAN." Please explain what these signs or symbols represent.

"LEA" are the initials of the newly elected president of Mexico, Luis Echeverria Alvarez. His name and initials appear in many areas that may be seen from the road as one travels through Mexico today. In some places on may see "Sonora con LEA" or "Baja California con LEA" which indicates that the state of Sonora is with (or favors) Luis Echeverria Alvarez and the state of Baja California is with (or favors) LEA.

"PRI" is the abbreviation for the controlling political party in Mexico. "PRI" is pronounced "pree" and is the short form for "Partido Revolucionario Institucional." This would be translated as the Revolutionary Institutional Party." This is the same party that supported the newly elected president.

"PAN" is the abbreviation of the opposition party. "PAN," pronounced "pahn," stands for "Partido Accion Nacional." This is the National Action Party which has not had a successful presidential candidate to date.

Incidentally the presidents of Mexico are imited to one term of six years. After six years, the power and responsibility of the president are transferred to the next successful candidate.

If you wish to pronounce the Spanish terms that relate to LEA, PRI, and PAN, just dial 276-2762 and be guided by a recorded voice that says them for you in the following phrases.

Unification could bring school districts in the East Cunty into one, two or three larger districts.

Student Enrollment

Student enrollment has been consistent for several years, but development of low-cost residential complexes could increase the enrollment in local schools, he said.

Netzley said that he hopes that good planning by San Diego City and County planners will take care of the situation, and also stressed a need for careful planning on the part of Lemon Grove planners.

There is a need, he said, for local planning for streets and community development. He noted that planning is in the right direction.

In the consensus of Spring Valley leaders, the Rancho San Diego Development could hold the key to the coming year.

According to Alex Struthers, who is a member of the governing board of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce, the development, which will be mostly completed.

Struthers said that other house some 6,000 people, will suburban development will probably play a vital role in Spring Valley's future.

He said that increasing population will bring more schools, and will help business in the community.

Struthers, also connected with the Otay Water District, added that new developments would not overburden the water district.

Developments could, however, contribute to the already overcrowded conditions at high schools in the area as well as elementary schools.

He also noted that he thought that the new year would bring about more parks and a better recreation district.

Don Tarr, president of the Spring Valley Rotary, and an employee of the Grossmont High School District with Special Education, agreed with Struthers on the Rancho San Diego Development.

Tarr said that the development could become the center of local government in Spring Valley. He said that it was likely that Spring Valley would no longer see a rural type government.

He said that it would be good to see local people get more involved in local government.

considering 26 cases for expulsion for drug policy violations.

Eight of the 26 cases were resolved at the executive session, with 18 cases dealt with at a special meeting Tuesday night, as time would not permit Monday night.

On Tuesday night, the board placed one more student on probation, and expelled 17 others. The student on probation was also suspended.

The expulsions this week brought the total number of students expelled under the drug policy to 543 since it went into effect four years ago.

UCSD Named Among Nation's Top Colleges

The University of California, San Diego has been rated among the top graduate schools in the nation in a survey released this week in Washington, D.C., by the American Council on Education.

The survey, titled "A Rating of Graduate Programs," was conducted by the ACE in 1969. It compares 130 colleges and universities in all parts of the United States each having graduate programs in two or more of 36 selected academic disciplines.

Only institutions which have awarded at least 100 doctorates in two or more of the 36 disciplines in the most recent 10-year period for which national doctorate data were available were included.

UCSD was rated among the top graduate school in 10 of the 36 disciplines included in the survey with the added opinion that the doctoral program in each discipline was better now than five years ago.

Dr. Herbert York, Acting Chancellor at UCSD, said the rankings of the San Diego campus in the national survey were especially gratifying since many of the doctoral programs were still in the developmental stage as few as five years ago.

Another Silent Movie-Organ Music Show Set

Southland Music Center, 3459 Imperial, Lemon Grove will present popular young organist Tommy Stark in an unusual show featuring theatre organ music, the Laurel & Hardy silent film classic "Soup to Nuts" an old fashioned follow-the-bouncing ball sing-along and a vaudeville sketch. The concert is scheduled for Saturday at 8 p.m.

A Southland Music feature is the 200-seat theatre in which the store is located. Showrooms flank the foyer to the theatre. The firm engages in the retail sale of organs, pianos, sheet music, records, tapes and accessorie for keyboard instruments and offers a teaching program as well.

"We've had a number of programs in the theatre already," Stark said. "First we had three organ workshops with the noted organist-composer-conductor Richard Ellsasser. We held those on three Tuesday evenings in November. My partner, Jim Hansen had a successful Christmas concert in December. People really came out."

"I'm going one step further with my show, however. I'm going to add a vaudeville sketch — live. We're going to do the Blackbottom and Five-foot Tw, real roaring-twenties style. We think the people will like it, so we're going to try it once and see how it is received. We're very gratified to see the reception we've gotten with these programs. And we've proven on very good point: people want good, wholesome entertainment — entertainment for the whole family. They can bring their kids to our shows knowing that what they'll see and hear won't do them any harm — and the kids enjoyed the program that Jim did last month too.

Reservations for this concert-silent movie-show may be made by phoning Southland Music at 463-0308. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children under twelve.

Kiwanis Club Learns Of Vocational Education Deal

Harry Lashmet, vocational counselor at Monte Vista High School, told members of the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club about the vocational education program in the Grossmont High School District at a recent meeting of the club.

Lashmet told the club of two advantages the program provides for youngsters in the district. He said that students in the program learn practical skills, while at the same time learn whether or not a particular vocation requires a further education in college or a trade school, or if the vocation requires on-the-job training.

Lashmet also gave a brief rundown on some of the programs available in the district and explained what some of the students from Monte Vista are interested in.

He said that 27 Monte Vista students are currently enrolled at Santana High School for vocational classes in Auto Mechanics, Building construction, metal trades, industrial design, electronics, and plastics.

Lashmet explained that the students take regular courses at their own school and travel by bus or car to other district schools for vocational classes several times each week.

Other schools offering vocational classes include El Cajon Valley, which has a program in vocational agriculture, Helix, which teaches graphics arts courses, and El Cajon Valley Hospital, where students get training in nursing.

Lashmet said that student interest is quite strong in the vocational programs, with many students going to classes early in the morning.

As part of his presentation to the club, Lashmet showed slides of students working in the program.

San Diego Padre season ticket holders this season will enjoy the major advantage of free parking for all home games.

The Padres in 1971 will play 81 games over 72 dates at San Diego Stadium. The season opens April 6 against the San Francisco Giants.

The Padres announced that one season book of parking in a preferred area will be included with the purchase of two or more full season tickets.

At the regular parking cost of $1 per game, this free-parking policy represents a savings of $72.

Full Padre season plans cost $250 per ticket in the Field and Plaza locations and $175 per ticket in the Loge level.

The Padres also have available partial season plans at $85 per seat that do not carry free parking but do represent nearly a 10 per cent savings on each ticket if purchased on a per game basis.

One partial season ticket plan provides tickets to 32 games on 27 dates, primarily Friday nights and Sundays. The other plan provides tickets to 30 games on 27 dates, primarily Wednesday and Friday nights.

Both partial season ticket plans include exchange privileges.

The Padres 1971 schedule features 12 Friday nights, 9 doubleheaders and 3 holiday dates.

Season tickets now may be purchased at the Padre ticket offices at San Diego Stadium or by writing the Padres. Post Office Box 2000, San Diego 92120. Further ticket informateion is available by calling either Joe Sullivan or Charlie Fisher 283-4494.

Late Scores From High Schools

Monte Vista Basketball

The Helix Highlanders, led by senior forwards Mike Honz and Dan Coleman, stunned Monte Vista 74-49 Tuesday night at the winners' gym.

The Moarchs, playing without junior starter Jack Cross, who was suffering from the flu, were beaten at their own game, the fast break.

Helix also employed offense rebounding strength and good outside shooting on their way to throwing a wrench into the Monarchs' dream of an undefeated season.

Monte Vista was unable to penetrate the tough zone defense of Helix to get inside shots and the result was the Monarchs long jumpers with little accuracy.

Mt. Miguel Basketball

The Mount Miguel cagers easily defeated the tough El Capitan Vaqueros Tuesday afternoon in the first game of league play in the winners' gym, 69-50.

The Matadors jumped out to a 14-11 lead by good ball conrol and good work on the inside by John Slater, who was high scorer with 29 points.

Slater played the key role for the local team, with help from Tom Young, who chipped in 10 tallies to aid in the win.

In the second period, El Capitan came back to outscore the locals, and took a 28-26 margin away at halftime.

In the second half, Mount Miguel claimed the lead early and coasted home, as Miguel coach Dwight Teater flooded the floor with substitutes.

In tehe final two periods, Mount Miguel outscored the Vaqs 43-22.

FROSTY — The first freeze of the new year hit Lemon Grove and Spring Valley this week, as puddles left over from recent rainstorms became covered with ice. The mercury in Lemon Grove dropped to 30 degrees Monday morning and 29 degrees Tuesday. In Spring Valley, the low readings went from 47 degrees January 2, to 26 degrees January 4, and 22 degrees January 5. The temperature is expected to continue to be low for the rest of this week.

Monarchs To Take Title, Five To Vie For Second

PREP ACTION — The 1971 Grossmont High School League basketball season got underway Tuesday afternoon, with Monte Vista taking on Helix in the featured game. Monte Vista is favored to take the league flag this year, but could get good competition from El Cajon, Helix, and Grossmont.

Braves, Hillers, Scots Fight For Runner Up

The 1971 Grossmont League basketball season optned Tuesday night, as the league's favored team, Monte Vista, visited Helix, in the featured game.

With holiday tournaments out of the way, area coaches have had time to get their teams in top operating order, and startng lineups have been decided on for the loop race.

Top teams in the Grossmont League will be Monte Vista, El Cajon, Grossmont, and Helix, with Santana and Mount Miguel with an outside chance. Granite Hills and El Capitan will not offer much.

The Monarchs, who have two seniors who standout among league scorers, should have little trouble wresting the title from defending Helix, a team that lost its top scorer, Bill Walton, to graduation last year.

Walton, probably the top high school player in San Diego County history, is now leading the freshman team at UCLA.

El Cajon, the team that should take second place in the league this year, has little in the way of height, but fields a team that includes four of last year's starting five.

The Braves are a crew that likes to handle the ball and shoot from the outside. They will have problems with defense against taller teams like Monte Vista and Grossmont.

In the third place spot this year should be either Grossmont or Helix, with the Scots leaning on three excellent shooters, Mikt Honz, Dan Coleman, and Dennis Dupree, and the Grossmont team depending on team play.

Both clubs have their good and bad days, but Helix has been more consistent running up impressive scores in tournament action lately. Grossmont has won seven of its last ten games against some outstanding teams.

In fifth place, Mount Miguel will be struggling, as it faces its severest test next Tuesday afternoon at Grossmont. A lot depends on how the Matadors fare against the Hillers.

The Matadors depend on the inside play of John Slater and the steady outside shooting of Tom Young and Sonny Crim.

Next in line will be the Santana Sultans, a crew that deserves a better fate than being in the same league with Monte Vista and El Cajon. Santana has a game team that has been inconsistent, but could do some damage, and may have something to say about who files the pennant this season.

At the end of the line one will find El Capitan and Granite Hills.

While El Capitan has won only two of 10 games in the pre-season, the Vaqueros have been involved in some heart-stoppers with some of the county's best teams.

El Cap will probably win both its games over Granite Hills, and could develop as the season grows old. The Vaqueros may surprize one of the tougher clubs near the end of the season.

The Granite Hills Eagles will be lucky to win more than one game this year, as the Eagles are the perfect example of a good team in too tough a league.

They will be better when the season moves on, however, and could rise to the occasion, should a tougher club fall asleep against them.

Overall, the 1971 Grossmont season should be one of the best ever, as all but two teams have a shot at second place behind the Monte Vista team.

There is a good possibility that this year may see more overtime games and two or three-point margin wins than ever.

Earle's Bucket With Two Seconds Left Wins Game

The Monte Vista basketball team, stricken with sickness and injuries, won the 9th annual Newport Harbor Basketball Tournament by defeating the Camarillo Scorpions, 46-44, in the final game played Dec. 30.

With center Allen Bunting and guard Carl Stucky suffering from the flu, and senior Bob Papciak and junior Jack Cross having leg injuries, guard-forward Gary Earle had the responsibility of scoring crucial baskets for the Monarchs.

It was Earle's 15-foot jumper with two seconds left in the game that won the championship for the locals. The 6-foot-3 senior was the game's leading scorer 14 points. Bunting and Stucky both had eight.

Although he only played ten minutes, Papciak led the Monarchs' final charge in the fourth quarter. With 23 seconds left in the game, Camarillo had control of the ball with the score tied at 44. The Scorpions' Fred Huston was called for an offensive foul with just eight seconds left.

Papciak dribbled through Camarillo's press and passed off to Earle at the right side of the foul line and Earle's shot won the game.

The win for the Monarchs was the thirteenth in as many games this year, and left them as the only undefeated team in San Diego County.

The game, a defensive battle, was the tightest contest the Monarch team has played in this year. The Camarillo group led after the first period, 9-8, but Monte Vista came back to lead by a single point at halftime, 18-17. In the third period, Camarillo managed to get on top, 33-31, but Monte Vista came back to tie it in the last minute before Earle's shot.

The locals sank only 30 per cent of their shots from the field in the game, but the defensive efforts kept them in the game.

Following are the final non-league standings for Grossmont League teams:

Monte Vista	13-0
El Cajon	9-3
Helix	10-4
Grossmont	7-5
Santana	6-7
Mount Miguel	5-6
El Capitan	2-8
Granite Hills	0-10

Staff Reorganization Made By S.D. Chargers

A major reorganization of the leadership of the San Diego Chargers has been announced by club president Eugene V. Klein.

Sid Gillman, head coach and general manager of the Chargers from 1960 until illness forced him to retire as coach after 10 games in 1969, will return as head coach. He also has been appointed executive vice-president.

Charlie Waller, who replaced Gillman as head coach, will become head offensive coach. His contract was extended through 1972. A head defensive coach will also be appointed.

A new general manager will be appointed to allow Gillman to devote full time to football. The new man will be responsible for the signing of players.

Irv Kaze, business manager since 1967, will hold a new position as assistant to the president in charge of administration.

Klein gave the following reasons for his actions:

—"Sid Gillman is one of the greatest coach talents in pro football. I believe his talent is wasted in any ther capacity than coaching. There have been several inquiries from other teams as to his availability to return as a coach. I don't want to see him coach any team but the San Diego Chargers."

—"I insisted that Sid Gillman step down from coaching in 1969 because of his failure. I asked him to return only on the condition he would get a complete bill of health from doctors. He has checked out perfectly. His health is excellent."

—"Charlie Waller did a fine job in his tenure as head coach. I have nothing but praise and respect for him. I am delighted he will remain in our organization."

—"The complexities of pro football are so great today that an organization needs a well-defined distribution and division of responsibilities. I feel our new setup will meet this challenge."

"My only objective is to win and give the people of San Diego a championship team. I will do everything necessary to meet that goal."

Gillman, 59, returns to the sidelines as the fifth winningest coach in pro football history. His 110 wins is surpassed only by Paul Brown of Cincinnati among active coaches. He began his pro coaching career with the Los Angeles Rams in 1955. His full coaching career spans 35 years.

College Teams Schedule Games

Grossmont College's Athletic Department released the sports calendar for the coming week.

Tomorrow, the Griffin grapplers will travel to San Lius Obispo to take part in the California Plytechnic Tournament. The Griffs, off to a slow start early in the year, have been putting it all together of late, and could be among the top ten junior colleges at the tourney.

The tournament will last through Saturday evening, with finals expected to get underway around 8 p.m.

On Saturday night, the Grossmont bucket brigade, behind the steady shooting of Bill Belander, will invade the Palomar College gym for a game scheduled at 8 p.m.

Palomar, a fair power among local junior colleges, will have to deal with a Griffin team that has come a long way in the last two weeks.

The Griffs started out slowly this year, as the team lost most of its first seven games. But in the last few contests, Griffs Bill Belander and Ron Murphy have been coming through with good second-half efforts.

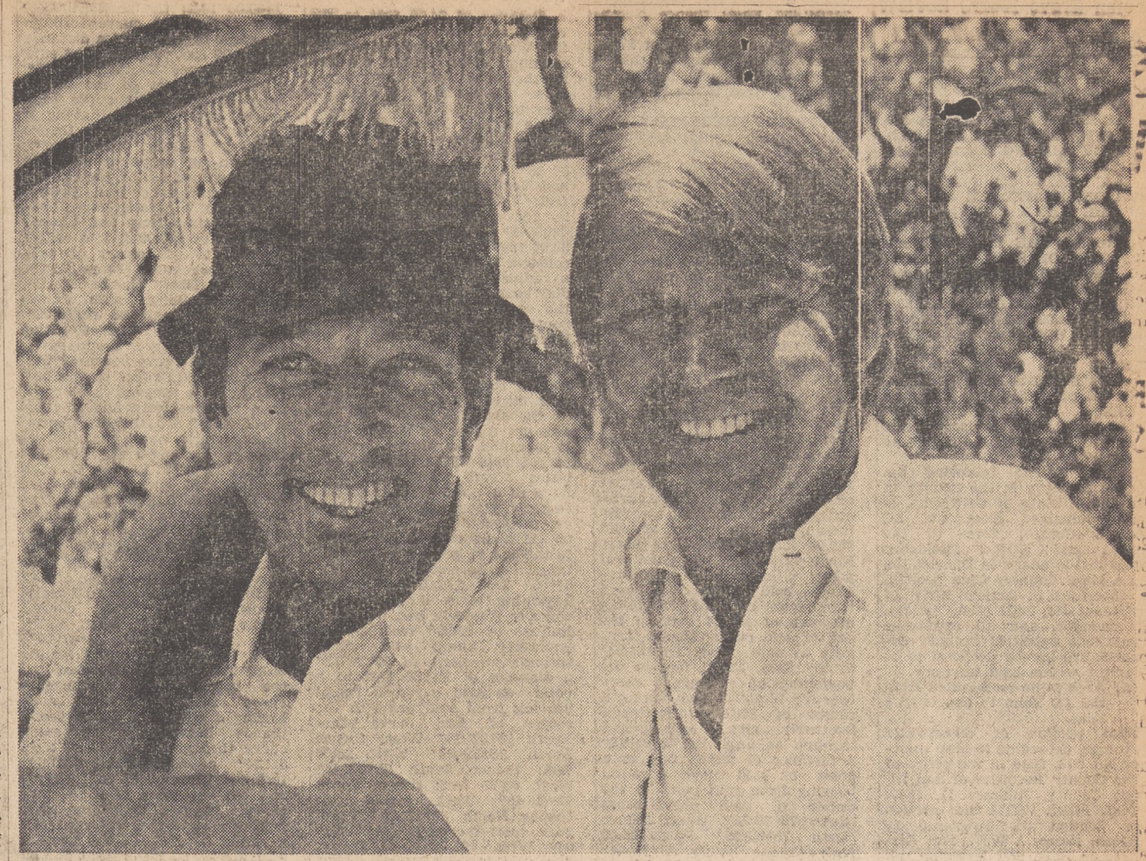
In a recent game, the Griffs blew Mesa of Arizona off the court in the second half, after trailing badly in the first two frames.

Next Wednesday night, the Griffin cage crew will play host to San Bernardino in an 8 p.m. encounter. Also on Wednesday, the Grossmont wrestling crew will play host to a rugged Riverside team.

Navy Relief Night . . Planned By Rockets

The San Diego Rockets' game January 17 is "Navy Relief Night." Proceeds from the sale of special discount tickets will go to the San Diego Auxiliary of the Navy Relief Society.

These tickets may be purchased at the Armed Services "Y", the USO and Seven Seas Centers by military or civilian fans.



SINGERS — Andy Williams, left, and Glen Campbell, will be main attractions in the pro-am division of the fourth annual Andy Williams San Diego Open January 26-27. The celebrity-studded event will precede the 72-hole open January 28-31.

Somehow Andy Williams Finds Time To Help Out With Tourney

You cannot measure Andy Williams' contribution to the San Diego Open Golf Tournament that bears his name without knowing how valuable time is to him.

The famed singer, now starring on his own weekly TV series, will be at Torrey Pines during the Andy Williams San Diego Open, playing in the Pro-Am with his show biz friends Jan. 26-27, taping the Andy Williams TV Show from here the night of the 26th, and assisting on the nationwide telecast on the final days of the Jan. 28-31 Open.

He also is involved in preparations for the $170,000 tournament, flying down from Hollywood on occasion to confer with tourney officials and keeping track of arrangements through his personal representative, Shelly Saltman.

Saltman, who serves as executive coordinator for the AWSDO between personal responsibilities in Hollywood, offers a clue to the value of his client's time by a peek into a typical Monday at Andy's office above his Barnaby Productions on famous La Cienega Boulevard south of the Sunset Strip.

"The only thing typical about any day in Andy's office is the fact that he's the first to arrive in the morning and the last to leave at night, Saltman begins.

"He'll be there all alone about 7:30 going over bills, signing checks, answering mail — fan and business both. Remember, he's president of a production firm, a record company and a sports-involved business in addition to doing a little singing.

"Around 9 a.m. the office comes alive. Andy's secretary brings him a cup of black coffee and reminds him of appointments, calls he must make, and details that must be tended to. By 10 he ambles downstairs where it's time for a production staff meeting on the next show.

As executive producer and chief performer, Andy must approve everything the producers do. During these two-hour meetings scripts are changed, rewritten, edited, and eventually put in order for the week's taping and shooting."

Saltman is not apt to see Andy at noon. While everyone else is at lunch, the entrepreneur entertainer has a light snack at his desk in between trying on his wardrobe for the next show and taking the phone calls.

After music, Andy is apt to get involved in hairy discussions of real estate, advertising, promotion, the problems surrounding his enterprises. If there's a basketball game involving the Phoenix Suns that night, he might go to the Forum. "But then", Saltman reminds, "That's business, too. Andy owns a piece of the Suns."

Not long ago, backers of a "Save the Torrey Pines" drive concerned with purchasing acres of the ancient and rare trees asked Andy Williams to play an exhibition with Billy Casper, Gene Littler and Dick Mayer at Torrey Pines. "Somehow he found time for it and shot a very respectable 80," Saltman says. "Not bad for a guy in a sweater who doesn't have time to practice."

Mount Miguel, Helix Capture Tie For First In Wrestling Tourney

When it comes to wrestling talent, most high school fans look to the Grossmont League for the best in the county, and Grossmont League fans look to Monte Vista, Mount Miguel and Helix for the best in the league.

Monte Vista, the team that was expected to show muscle this year, finished a disappointing third in the Grossmont J. C. Invitational Tournament, held last Wednesday. However, Mount Miguel and Helix more than made up for the showing of the Monarchs, as the two teams tied for the in the light weight class, and Mount Miguel's Dale Siscon pinned four straight men on his way to the top spot in the 103-lb. division.

Helix started to move out in front in the next few weight classes, but Mount Miguel bounced back to take the lead with a first place per-top spot. Another Grossmont League school, Santana, took fourth place.

The Monte Vista team, after soundly thrashing Mount Miguel in the Grossmont League opener December 18, 40-10, came into the tournament with a handicap, as all-CIF candidate Dan Fleury couldn't wrestle.

As the tournament opened, Mount Miguel and Helix took command, with the Highlanders picking up a blue-ribbon formance from Mark Schuff in the 145-lb. division.

The Matadors pulled steadily away as the matches progressed through the 165-lb. class, then had to sit and wait as they had not qualified any athletes in the heavier divisions.

In the 191-lb. consolation match, Helix got the break it needed, as Chuck Coverette upset Monte Vista's Randy McCorquodale. In the heavyweight consolation match, Highlander Dennis Johnson added the tying points with his win over Wayne Cvitkovitch, of Santana.

Helix, with three first place winners, Bobby Rettig, Mitch Steinhauer, and Robert Cesena led all teams in that division. Mount Miguel had a pair in Dale Siscon, who was also named the top wrestler in the tournament, and Mark Schuff. Monte Vista had one, Rick Weathers.

Final Round Results:

Gulls Faceoff Saturday Against Tough Totem Team

The San Diego Gulls face off against the Seattle Totems in an important two-game series at the Sports Arena this Saturday and Sunday evening.

The Gulls and Totems will be resuming their head-to-head battle for second place in the Western Hockey League standings. They have been fighting for the runnerup spot to league-leading Portland throughout the first half of the season.

The Totems entered this week's WHL activity three points behind the Gulls, but had played six less games than San Diego. The Totems played at Denver on Tuesday night, and will play in Salt Lake Friday night before coming to San Diego for the weekend series.

Sunday night's game will have a special flavor. It will be KOGO Night, as well as having all the extras included in every Sunday night Family Night game.

The KOGO Night festivities will include an intermission broomball game between KOGO radio and the Ernie Myers San Ysidro Beach and Tennis Club Pom Pon Girls Broomball Hockey Team, as well as music by Bart Hazlett and his Dixie Hassiers throughout the evening.

There will be a minor hockey association game at 5 o'clock Sunday and free public skating after the game, as at all Family Night games.

The Totems have a 3-2-1 edge in the series this season and are unbeaten on Sports Arena ice with two wins and a tie. The Gulls have a 2-1 advantage in Seattle.

The Gulls have already played 21 of their 36 road games for this season and only 17 home games. The key to their success in the WHL race is improving on their 8-6-3 home ice record.

Office Of Civil Defense Has Natural History Museum Show

The San Diego Natural History Museum begins the new year with an exhibit from the Office of Civil Defense called "Maintaining Life in a Hostile Environment."

Dr. William A. Burns, Museum Director, explained that the exhibit will remain for six months at the museum. He added that the exhibit displays include "Life Support For Man the Explorer", Life Support for Man In His Everyday World", "Facts About Fall-out", "Community Shelter Planning", "Increasing Shelter Spaces", and "The Fall-out Shelter Shields and Sustains".

According to William B. Marty, Administrative Officer for the Unified San Diego Civil Defense and Disaster Organization, the civil defense exhibit relates the scientific achievements of supporting life in such hostile environments, as outer space and the ocean depths, to the need for community-planned life support measures in case of disasters.

One of the features is the use of multi-screen, color slide presentation with narration that features information on common disasters such as floods, hurricanes, and earthquakes that constantly threaten communities.

The exhibit informs viewers that radioactive fallout results only from a nuclear explosion on or near the ground. The display states that radioactivity is temporary, lasting from a few days to a few weeks, depending on the element present. It shows how adequate barrier shielding is provided with varying thickness of different materials.

San Diego Schools and colleges are invited to tour the display during its showing. The museum is open from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily including Saturdays and Sundays.

Arrangements for the exhibit have been made jointly by the Unified San Diego County Civil Defense and Disaster Organization, the San Diego Museum of Natural History, and the Federal Office of Civil Defense.

Jim Bear Gives Board New Look

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — William A. Craven of Oceanside took over the gavel as chairman of the Board of Supervisors on Monday.

Craven and the board's new member and new vice chairman, Jim Bear, took the oath of office for a full term.

Bear, who replaces De Graff Austin as supervisor for the southern part of San Diego was sworn in earlier by James because he couldn't attend Monday's meeting.

There is no set procedure for swearing in county officers. They must merely take the oath of office prior to noon on the first Monday in January.

Bear's voting position will be of interest as the board has formed two loose coalitions with Jack Walsh and Harry Scheidle together on a number of propositions, although certainly not all.

Voting on the other side often were Austin, Craven and Henry A. Boney. Austin is 74 years of age and did not run for re-election.

Bid Opening Approved On Jamul Bus Replacement

The Grossmont Union High School District Board of Trustees approved the opening bids Monday night on a replacement of bus 17, which is in use by the Jamul-Las Flores School District, under an agreement between the two districts.

Under the agreement, the Jamul-Las Flores district provides a driver for the vehicle, and funds for operating costs, while the bus is owned by the Grossmont District. The bus is used to transport Jamul-Las Flores District youngsters to school, as well as some youngsters of high school age.

Due to extreme hills and curves that lie in the vehicle's route, the bus has been depreciating prematurely, and has required an unusual amount of maintenance and repair.

The Jamul District made the request that the bus be replaced because of increasing expenses for its operation.

Other problems with the bus have arisen because the bus is too small for the number of students using it, and because it has standard steering and transmission, it is difficult to handle on the route.

L. E. Holtman, assistant superintendent in charge of business for the Grossmont District made a recommendation at the board meeting that a 79-passenger bus with a gasoline engine and power steering and automatic transmission be the replacement.

Diesel fuel is not available in the Jamul area.

It was estimated that the new bus would be available at a cost of about $18,000. It is expected to be ready by the fall of next year.

Mass Swearing In Ceremony Held Monday

A mass "swearing in" ceremony of newly elected County officials was held in the Board of Supervisors' North Chambers at 11 a.m., Monday.

Superior Court Presiding Judge Joseph A. Kilgarif swore in Supervisors William Craven and Jim Bear, Sheriff John A. Duffy, District Attorney Ed Miller, Recorder Harley F. Bloom, Assessor E. C. Williams, Tax Collector James E. Jones, County Clerk R. B. (Bud) James, and Treasurer Delavan J. Dickson.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, retiring Supervisor DeGraff Austin relinquished his chair to Bear, and Supervisor Henry Boney turned over the Chairman's gaven to Craven. Craven was elected by the Board to serve as Chairman for 1971 and Bear is the new Vice Chairman.

The entire program was a continuation of last week's Board of Supervisors' meeting.

Escondido Artist Displayed At History Museum

The San Diego Natural History Museum is showing fifteen acrylic paintings of natural history subjects by the Escondido artist Peter Ott. The paintings, executed in the characteristic Ott technique, include brown pelicans, iguana, basilisk, tree frog, white heron, eagle, egret, and a number of exotic underwater marine paintings which include corals, crustaceans, and tropical fishes.

Ott's pictures, painted on masonite with acrylics, are brilliant in color and remind the viewer of enormous color photographs enlargements. Part of this is due to the fact that he photographs his subjects first in color, then uses the prints as a color guide to work from.

He began painting when he was a first grade pupil and won first prize for his painting of a horse race. Since that time he has painted without interruption and has added a new dimension to his work — the painting of animals that are on the endangered species list.

His "Last Sunset" is such a work, showing the golden eagle against a fiery red sunset sky, screaming its defiance against the man-made forces that have caused it almost to disappear from the American scene.

Ott's paintings will be on display on the main floor of the Natural History Museum for the month of January.

Beauty Named Heart Queen

Toni Yuskis, winner of several beauty contests, has been named 1971 Heart Queen, it was announced last week by Frank A. Gibson, president of the San Diego County Heart Association.

Miss Yuskis, 18, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Anton Yuskis of El Cajon. Twenty years ago, Dr. Yuskis served as the first president of the local Heart Association.

Peru became a republic in 1821.

New Adventure Series Starts January 12 At Civic Theater

Explorama has announced its 1971 travel adventure series. The new season will consist of four feature length documentaries, all with in-person narration by their producers.

"Portraits of Spain", a new 2-hour color film, will be narrated in person by its producer Curtis Nagel at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, January 12, at the San Diego Civic Theatre. This is the first travel adventure film to be produced in Spain in the last five years.

The film was shot on location in the following Spanish cities; Segovia, Avila, Madrid, Alcoy, Cordoba, Granada, Valencia and Sevilla. The film is a combination of human interest vignettes of the Spanish people and a study of the architectural, historical and unusual Rastro, or flea market of Madrid; Flamenco music and dancing; the running of the bulls at Pamplona; the cultural aspects of Spain.

Featured in the film is the enchanting Moorish architecture of the Alhambra and the world's most colorful fair in Sevilla. The film is highlighted by the guest appearance of screen star Audry Hepburn.

The series will continue on Tuesday, February 2, with Ed Lark narrating "Hawaii". March will bring "I Love Mexico" and in April "Look to Finland".

Reserved seat tickets at $3.75, $3.50 and $3.25 are now available at the Civic Theatre Box Office, phone 236-6510, all Metro Ticket Agencies and all Highlander Stores.

Aztecs Open Loop Play With CSLB

Like a hound after a fox, San Diego State's basketball team, 2-6 on the season, will begin the Pacific Coast Athletic Association title hunt this week by hosting defending champion Cal State Long Beach, 9-4.

The Aztecs will take on the 49ers Friday night at 8:05 p.m. in Peterson Gym on campus and then come back the following evening to host Seattle University (5-5) in a non-conference game. San Diego's freshman team will play 5:45 p.m. preliminary games both nights, meeting the Long Beach frosh Friday and the USIU yearlings on Saturday.

Long Beach is on the way back from a somewhat disappointing holiday season during which time they dropped two of four contests. Coach Jerry Tarkanian's crew suffered back-to-back losses to Tulsa and Nevada (Las Vegas) in the Las Vegas Tournament. However, the 49ers did manage to stop UC Riverside, 58-50, and Colorado, 84-62.

"We're anxious, but apprehensive about meeting Long Beach," commented Aztec coach Dick Davis. "We feel they can be beaten, as evident by their four losses already, but when they want to they can put together an awesome offense and defense.

"We're scouted them a couple of times and feel we know them pretty well so the outcome could boil down to who's on and who executes best."

Campsite Reservations Not Taken More Than Three Months Early

State Parks and Recreation Director William Penn Mott Jr. issued a reminder that reservations for campsites at state park campgrounds will not be accepted for more than 90 days in advance.

"We are already starting to get mail requests for reservations from campers who want campsites over the Memorial Day weekend or for some period during the summer season," he said. "Unless the first day of the reservation period falls within 90 days of the date of application, the application will be returned unfilled."

Mott explained that in the past his department had accepted campsite reservations all the way through to the end of the calendar year, but that many complaints had been received from persons who could not plan more than a few months ahead.

"Now," he added, "those who can't plan their vacations early in the year will not be at a disadvantage. They will have as good a chance as anyone else of getting a reservation in any state park campground during the peak season."

Better Business Bureau Warns Of Mail Order Investment Schemes

Expensive variations on the old start-your-own-mail-order-business scheme have been brought to the attention of The San Diego Better Business Bureau, Cecil Candler, local Bureau president, reported this week.

The Better Business Bureau said promoters recruit beginners to invest in promotions of pens or office supplies by mail order.

The Council of Better Business Bureaus, of which the San Diego Better Business Bureau is a member, said a number of complaints have been received from persons who invested in such mail order promotions.

Under one plan, according to the BBB, a mail order novice, called an associate distributor, signs a contract requiring an investment of $1,147 for an initial mailing to a list of 2,500 "exclusive computer selected" business firms for the purpose of soliciting orders for ball point pens.

For his investment, the associate distributor receives a list of 2,500 prospects, the same number of sales brochures, envelopes, sample pens and other incentive-stimulators. Besides his investment, he also has to pay for postage, labor and other additional costs involved in mailing the promotional materials.

In addition, the contract requires three more mailings a year, even if the returns on the first mailing are negligible.

Local To Speak At S.D. Forum

Dr. David Reuben, author of the No. 1 best seller "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Sex, But Were Afraid to Ask", will speak to the San Diego Open Forum, Sunday, at 8:30 p.m. The Open Forum is held at the First Unitarian Church, 4190 Front st., in San Diego.

Dr. Reuben, a Spring Valley psychiatrist, explains sex with a humour which has earned him the sale of well over a million books in the last year, publication in 23 countries and 15 languages, over half a hundred radio and television appearances, a monthly column in McCall's Magazine, and articles in Cosmopolitan, Ladies Home Journal, and Life magazines.

Age 37, Dr. Reuben attended the University of Chicago and the University of Illinois College of Medicine. He was a psychiatric resident at the Cook County Mental Health Center in Chicago.

As an Air Force Captain he was Chief of Neuropsychiatry at Walker Air Force Base. Before coming to the practice of psychiatry in San Diego he was a Clinical Research Associate at the Harvard Medical School, Boston.

Dr. Reuben will speak on "Everything the Audience Wants to Know About Sex". In the audience participation discussion to follow he will answer questions "Which the Audience is Not Afraid to Ask." Following the lecture and discussion there will be a coffee hour during which Dr. Reuben may field some more questions and comments.

Imperial Acquires Columbus

Imperial Corp. of America will acquire Columbus Savings and Loan Association, San Francisco, a joint statement released by Reese H. Dorr, Columbus' president, and Jack H. McDonald, president of Imperial Corp., disclosed.

According to the statement, agreement in principle has been reached under which ICA will exchange an undisclosed number of shares of its common stock for all outstanding shares of Columbus. The acquisition is subject to approval by supervisory authorities and the board of each organization.

Columbus Savings has assets of approximately $213 million and operates a total of 10 offices in the San Francisco area.

Consummation of this acquisition and of Mt. Diablo Savings, Pittsburg, and Solano Savings, Fairfield, will increase ICA's penetration of the Bay Area from the five offices now operated by its subsidiary, Imperial Savings of the North, to 19, and its assets in that area to more than $300 million. Formal acquisition of Mt. Diablo and Solano is complete except for supervisory approval.

ICA also has reached a definitive agreement to acquire Colonial Savings of the South, which has assets of about $84 million and operates four offices in the Los Angeles area.

Consummation of all pending acquisitions will increase the number of offices operated by ICA's California subsidiaries to 46.
